Shirt Waists.

It's a waste of comfort, Ladies to pass the summer without a Shirt Waist. You will find wastes in a desert, but you'll see the largest display of Waists, those summery things in every variety of light, airy and cool materials, in our Fresh, Bright and entirely new stock.

Cotton Dress Goods.

It isn't by a happen, so that our sales of Cotton Dress Goods are so much greater this season than ever before; trade laws don't work by chance. If qualities and quantities, if styles and prices—particularly the prices—were not right, it would have been impossible to have sold such a number as we have.

The Foster Furniture and Carpet Company have created quite a stir in this city by a new departure they have recently taken. They have set aside their new big show window on Clinton street to display only such goods as are being offered at about half price. They are sold only for cash. They are articles that have been purchased at receiver's sales of suspended furniture factories, being purchased for cash in very large lots, and sold by the Foster Furniture Company at a very slight advance. If you have anything in the furniture line to buy this summer here is a splendid opportunity to make your money go about twice as far as it usually does.

ALMOST OVER

Is the Great Railroad Tie-Up.

Business Being Resumed at Chicago.

Engineers Will Not Help Debs.

But Few of the Men Obey Sovereign's Order.

Debs Arrested and Indicted at Chicago.

Everything May Be Settled at the Big Meeting to Be Held at Chicago Tomorrow.

Chicago, July 11—The general strike which was to have been inaugurated last night to force arbitration of the Pullman strike, failed to materialize today.

Throughout the city this morning there was little evidence of the business paralysis which had been so confidently predicted by labor leaders.

Every street car line in the city was running, the elevated roads carried the usual number of trains, and the early morning crowds of workingmen on the way to their shops and benches seemed undiminished.

Of all the trades which had threatened a strike, the seamen, the cigarmakers and the carpenters were the only unions which signified their intention of stopping work today. Reports from these trades were anxiously awaited, but their action one way or another, was regarded as only a drop in the bucket.

SOVEREIGN SAYS, 'DO NOT STRIKE.'

Cleveland, Ohio, July 11.—A telegram has been received at the headquarters of the Knights of Labor from Grand Master Workman Sovereign at Chicago, as follows. "Do not strike. See press reports."

The telegram from Mr. Sovereign, which came in late last night, was sent over from the Knights of Labor headquarters to a meeting of the American Railway union early today. Local Knights of Labor officials refuse to discuss the meaning of the communication. There was no strike, however, in this city today by members of the order, and it is supposed that the message from the grand master workman caused it to be called off for the time being, at least.

A member of the Knights of Labor, in speaking of the telegram, said he thought it was sent on account of the Debs indictment. In case the grand jury should take steps looking to the indictment of Sovereign this message would be on file with the telegraph company, showing he had called off the strike previously ordered.

SOVEREIGN HAS NO AUTHORITY.

Cincinnati, July 11.—District Master Workman Hugh Kavanaugh, of the Knights of Labor, when asked today what would be done here under the order of Grand Master Workman Sovereign, said the grand master workman had no authority to order a general strike. All he could do was to advise and request it. The request would then go to the local assemblies for consideration, and unless they agreed there would be no strike. Mr. Kavanaugh has not yet received official notice from Sovereign, and until he does no action whatever will be taken by the order in Cincinnati.

BUSINESS BEING RESUMED.

Chicago, July 11.—Switch engines were puffing around the yards today, several meat trains were sent out and business was in a fair way to be resumed on the usual footing.

The Lake Shore company had an engine at work and a switch train on the Wabash was running under command of Master Mechanic Jamison, Superintendent Merrill and Trainmaster Balon. The yard's switching company had three engines at work clearing away the wreckage that has blocked the tracks.

Police and militia guarded the trains but no violence was offered. Morris received forty-two cars of cattle over the Burlington and Quincy and three over the Santa Fe. Two meat trains were started from the yards. Their departure was not hindered. Last night 200 yard employes refused to load a meat train and the work was done by new men.

This morning the strikers told Superintendent Ashley that they did not intend to quit work permanently and asked to be reinstated. Their request was refused.

NICKEL PLATE MEN RETURN.

Toledo, Ohio, July 11.—As a result of a union meeting of the members of all railway orders at Bellevue last night all the Nickel Plate men reported for work this morning and trains are running without interruption.

QUIET AT THE STOCKYARDS.

Chicago, July 11.—The stockyards officials reported a quiet forenoon at the yards. Shipments were made last night of 136 cattle and 1,159 hogs without trouble and a large number of cars were expected in today.

ENGINEERS WILL NOT HELP DEBS

R. B. Youngson, of Cleveland, assistant to Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Engineers, held a conference today with President Thomas, of the Chicago and Western Indiana Belt Line road, at Mr. Thomas' office in the Dearborn station. A committee of engineers and firemen of the road was present. The object of the conference was to make arrangements regarding the running of trains during the present trouble. The engineers and firemen of the belt line are all said to be loyal to the company and willing to co-operate with it in raising the blockade.

Mr. Youngston said all the engineers of the brotherhood will stick to their engines and not one will leave his post to help the Deb's movement.

GOING BACK TO WORK.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 11.—The employes of the Erie railway here have decided to go back to work and the strike so far as that road is concerned here is over. All trains are started out as usual this morning.

The strike on the Big Four is also practically at an end. The firemen were the first to notify the company of their willingness to return and they were promptly followed by the road brakemen. By night it is thought every road leading into the city will have resumed freight traffic with a full force. General Passenger Agent Horner, of the Nickel Plate, says the strike is over so far as his road is concerned and that passenger trains with Pullman cars attached will be started out of Chicago tonight.

The Lake Shore, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and the several other roads are making much better progress in switching cars today and all are getting out freight trains.

A mass meeting of all striking railroad men is called for tonight and it is reported that either Debs or Rogers will be here from Chicago to take part in the deliberations.

W. & L. E. TIE-UP AT MASSILLON.

Massillon, Ohio, July 11.—The Wheeling and Lake Erie tie-up was made complete this morning by the withdrawal of all the brotherhood men, who were unable to continue at work without a full complement on each train crew. Freight and passenger service have been abandoned except the mail trains, which are still running.

DENIED AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 11.—The story from Cleveland that Grand Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor had wired his men at that place not to strike is emphatically denied by labor leaders here. Secretary Simpson, of the local union of Knights of Labor, said today that Mr. Sovereign had been privately informed of the Cleveland message. "That telegram was a forgery," said Secretary Simpson, "and Mr. Soverign has already forwarded a denial to Cleveland. There has been no countermand of last night's order."

Chicago, July 11.—The president of the Teamsters' union claimed this morning that 1,500 of his men had gone on a strike, but careful inquiry failed to verify the statement. The wholesale stores reported their teamsters going on as usual and it was impossible to find a striking teamster.

Mayor H. Pingree left Detroit last night to try to force the Pullman company to arbitrate. At noon the Pullman people report that they have not seen him and the situation is likely to remain unchanged.

DO NOT OBEY.

The president of the Building Trades' council says his order numbers 26 000 members and they will all quit work before Saturday night.

Up to noon today there was no evidence that any of them had struck. The Seamen's union claims a membership of 10,000, and all have been ordered to strike. At noon there was no evidence that any considerable number had obeyed the order.

DEBS ARRESTED.

Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway union; George W. Howard, vice president; Sylvester Kelleher, secretary' and L. W. Rogers, one of its directors, were arrested yesterday afternoon under an indictment found against them by the federal grand jury. They are charged with conspiracy to commit an unlawful act, that is, to block the progress of the United States mails.

Joined in the indictment with the four leaders of the railway union was James Murwin, the Rock Island striker, who threw the switch which derailed a mail train at Blue Island on the night of June 30.

Debs, Howard, Keleher and Rogers were taken into the office of District Attorney Milchrist immediately after their arrest, and after a few hours' detention they were released on bail by Judge Grosscup, their bonds being $10,000 each.

MAY CLOSE CHICAGO SALOONS.

Chicago, July 11.—There was a rumor about this morning that Mayor Hopkins would this morning issue a proclamation closing all the saloons in the city. Asked as to the truth of the rumor, the mayor said: "The matter has been under consideration and such a proclamation may be issued, but I do think it will be today."

Denver, Col., July 11.—All the Colorado railroads are now running all trains regularly and the A. R. U. members in this city and at other points will probably find when they apply for work that their services are not needed. The workingmen are not inclined to join in a sympathy strike on behalf of the Pullman employes and the A. R. U. as they cannot see that it would do any good

DEBS' PRIVATE PAPERS.

The Court Says They Must be Returned to Him.

Chicago, July 11—Judge Grosscup sent for Debs and also for District Attorney Milchrist today. When both were before him he said: "I understand from statements published in the newspapers that among books and papers taken from the defendant there were private letters, some of which were still unopened. I want to know the truth about the matter."

"It is true," said the district attorney, "that the books and papers in Debs' office were seized by government officers and some of them are private papers, but since they came into the possession of the government the papers have been locked up in the vault of my office and have not been interfered with by any one."

"Mr. Debs,' said the court, "stands accused in this court of a grave crime, but he has all the rights of a private citizen. His private affairs are not to be inquired into, and if you have in your possession any private papers or letters or other documents of that character it is your duty to return them and without making any copies of them. If there is any question as to the character of any of these papers whether they are private or not, the district attorney will bring them before the court."

Mr. Milchrist said the officers who made the seizure had taken papers which they should not have seized. This was due, he said, to the excitement of the moment and not to any desire to disregard private rights. The papers, Mr. Milchrist said, had not been copied and had not been seen by any one since they were brought to his office. The sealed letters had not been opened.

Debs said he was satisfied with the statement of the district attorney. "I desire to thank the court," he said, "for the kindness and consideration and the protection given me."

The leader of the strike then accompanied Mr. Milchrist to the latter's office and the letters which were seized last night were given to him. All the books of the American Railway union and the records, filling several large baskets, were kept for the use of the grand jury.

Mr. Sovereign Will Begin Proceedings Against Attorney General Olney.

Chicago, July 11—Mr. Sovereign was in consultation this morning by long distance telephone with General Secretary John W. Hayes, who, with T. B. McGuire and Charles A. French, members of the executive committee, is in Washington. After the conference Mr. Sovereign said: "Proceedings will be commenced in Washington today under direction of members of the executive committee of the K. of L. who are in the city to impeach Attorney General Olney." Mr. Sovereign did not think the proceedings would be brought through an appeal to congress, but in what manner he could not say. "If it was the president, congress would be the only way, but with a cabinet officer it is different. We have the best legal advice in Washington, and the petition against the attorney general has been drawn up and ready for filing."

DEBS INDICTED.

For Interfering With the Mail of Uncle Sam.

Chicago, July 11.—The indictment against Debs and the others was made public today. It is not a lengthy document and contains but one charge, that of interfering with the mails.

FIRST TROUBLE.

Resulting From the Calling out of Labor Organizations.

Chicago, July 11.—The first trouble resulting from the calling out of all labor organizations occurred this morning at the freight houses of the Burlington road. A telephone message was sent to the Maxwell street police station by a representative of Marshal Field & Co. saying that their teamsters were being intimidated by the strikers. Lieutenant Mahoney sent five officers to the freight houses and drove the crowd of strikers away.

MILITARY FORCE

Is Increased at the Government Building.

Chicago, July 11.—The military force guarding the government building was strengthened today. A Hotchkiss field gun, its muzzle pierced by eight small bores, was trained to command the approach to the building from either Clark or Jackson streets.

MAY BE OVER TOMORROW.

Arrangements Being Made for the Strike Settlement.

Chicago, July 11—The halting attitude of the strike leaders is explained by themselves to be due to the fact that everything is to be settled tomorrow at a big meeting at the Briggs house. The meeting is being arranged by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

REFUSE TO GO OUT.

The General Walk Out Fails.

Knights of Labor Refuse to Obey.

Sovereign's Order is Disregarded

By Labor Organizations All Over the Country.

Railroad Lines in Chicago and Throughout the West Rapidly Resuming Traffic.

Chicago, July 11.—The threatened general paralysis of labor of all sorts in Chicago and the general walk out of the Knights of Labor and their sympathizers in all parts of the country, which were to have taken place this morning, appear to have proved failures

In this city in the shops and factories, in the building trades and in the lines of inter urban travel there are no signs of obedience to the order issued by the representatives of allied labor in the city.

Not only that, but the railroad lines centering here show decided improvement in the traffic. Passenger trains, through, local and suburban, are moving everywhere without interruption and their freight business is rapidly assuming a normal condition.

For the first time within a week train loads of live stock were received at the stock yards and other train loads carrying beef and hog products to the eastern markets were sent out in very considerable volume.

Advices to the Associated Press from the great centers of population of the United States and from many of the less important cities, fail to show that the order or request of Grand Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, for a general cessation of work has met with the slightest recognition by the members of that order or by those who sympathized with them.

From the Pacific coast, where the most threatening and critical conditions have existed during the past week with preparations to resist the military force of the government by arms, comes the intelligence that this morning federal troops entered Sacramento unopposed.

At this hour the situation at Oakland, Cal., continues to be one of open revolt against the constituted authorities, but it is expected that order will be restored there without bloodshed.

In general the situation at noon seems to be that the last move of the labor leaders was taken without adequate knowledge of the temper of their followers and, unless something unforeseen shall intervene to radically change the aspect of affairs and the attitude of organized labor toward the original trouble, the strike is over.

Toledo, July 11.—Up to 10 a. m. the K. of L. here paid no attention to Sovereign's order.

Indianapolis, July 11.—There are no Knights of Labor men here. Sovereign's order had no visible effect. Gompers is not here.

Columbus, Ohio, July 11—There are no Knights of Labor in Columbus.

Memphis, Tenn., July 11.—No K. of L. strike here up to noon and none expected.

Louisville, Ky., July 11.—No action has been taken here by the Knights of Labor, and Sovereign's order has had no visible effect.

Pittsburg, July 11.—The Knights of Labor here did not respond today to Sovereign's request to quit work. Secretary Herchstetter stated that "District No. 3 was no striking machine."

Rochester, N. Y., July 11.—It is thought Sovereign's appeal will meet with no response in Rochester.

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—No Knights of Labor strike here up to 11 a. m.

Detroit, July 11.—There has been no strike of Knights of Labor or other organizations in compliance with Sovereign's request.

Milwaukee, July 11—The strike order fell flat in this city. Not a man quit work.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 11.—No strike here up to 11 a. m.

Jersey City, N. J., July 11.—There is no disposition here among railroad men or others to heed the recommendations in Sovereign's address.

Baltimore, July 11.—General Master Workman Sovereign's appeal produced no effect whatever in this city. The prevailing belief is that not a man here will strike.

Denver, July 11.—No strike of the Knights of Labor reported here.

Philadelphia, July 11.—No action has yet been taken by the Knights of Labor in this vicinity with reference to General Master Workman Sovereign's appeal. The order has dwindled greatly in numbers and influence in this vicinity in the last few years and it is claimed that not more than 600 men still cling to it. At headquarters men in charge affected to believe the address was spurious.

New York, July 11—The request of Grand Master Workman Sovereign that all Knights of Labor quit work in sympathy with the Pullman strike has met with no response here. Knights assume that the address contains no mandate, and that, therefore, they may exercise their own discretion in the premises

Buffalo, N. Y., July 11.—The Knights of Labor are not strong here, and thus far they show no disposition to go out in response to Grand Master Workman Sovereign's address. Said the master workman of the district assembly: "If we strike at all it will not be before the end of the week."

Washington, July 11—The Sovereign strike appeal has had no effect here and is not likely to have any. It is regarded as an appeal and local unions will not order a strike.

Omaha, Neb., July 11.—No strike had materialized here at 11 a. m.

Chicago, July 11.—The men on the West Division street and cable car lines held a meeting this morning and decided not to strike.

Kansas City, Mo., July 11—Sovereign's strike order has had no effect here.

Topeka, Kan., July 11 No Knights of Labor here.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 11.—No strike has occurred here yet in response to Sovereign's orders.

St. Paul, Minn., July 11.—Up to 11 o'clock Mr. Sovereign's order had been without effect in this city.

Duluth, Minn., July 11.—No strike here up to 11 o'clock.

Youngstown, Ohio, July 11.—All of the men employed by the Youngstown car lines struck at midnight on account of objectionable rules. They also want a readjustment of wages. The strike causes great inconvenience.

Chicago, July 11—The German Bakers' union No. 2 in fifty west side bake shops, containing 800 members, met this morning and decided to go out.

The journeymen horse shoers this morning postponed action on the strike until tomorrow morning.

Boston, July 11.—Sovereign's appeal to the Knights of Labor has had no effect here. General Worthy Foreman Bishop said today: "It is my opinion that the Boston order will not go out even if Sovereign should send out an order to that effect."

Nashville, Tenn., July 11 No Knights of Labor here had gone on a strike up to noon.

New Orleans, July 11.—The Knights of Labor, as telegraphed Monday night, decided not to strike. The only strikers here are the switchmen on the Northern railroad. All trains moving on time.

Evansville, Ind., July 11.—Knights of Labor did not strike here today. They are nearly all out of work.

Lancaster, Pa., July 11.—There are only about twenty-five Knights of Labor here and they are distributed among the different labor unions, no assembly being in existence in Lancaster. Sovereign's order will, therefore, have practically no effect here.

Columbus, Ohio, July 11—John McBride says there are from 7,000 to 8,000 Knights of Labor among the coal miners and that it is customary, in case of a strike being ordered by the head of the Knights of Labor, to refer the part affecting miners to the heads of the miners' organization. This has not been done as yet in the present instance. From 80,000 to 90,000 miners are now out of employment.

Nashville, Tenn., July 11.—All strikers on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, with the exception of some of the switchmen, returned to work today. The places of some of the switchmen have already been filled The Nashville, Chattanooga and Southern sent out its regular freight trains, and six were sent out by the Louisville and Nashville. All passenger trains arrive and depart on time.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 11.—The meeting adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with the Chicago strikers and offering help if it is wanted, in a financial way. Secretary Donovan said that this is much better than to order a sympathetic strike.

Watertown, N. Y., July 11.—The appeal of General Master Workman Sovereign to all Knights of Labor to strike has had no effect here.

Albany, N. Y., July 11.—General Master Workman Sovereign's order has had no effect in this city, Troy or Schenectady. No meetings have been called by the workingmen.

Reading, Pa., July 11.—In the Schuylkill valley General Master Workman Sovereign's order to strike was not heeded by a single man.

Washington, July 11.—Dispatches from Savannah, S. C., and Richmond, Va., say no attention whatever has been paid to Sovereign's strike order. The dispatches are regarded as indicative of the southern situation.

Sovereign Talks.

Chicago, July 11.—Referring to the threatened strike of the Knights of Labor General Master Workman Sovereign said he was by no means disappointed; that it was too early yet to say what the action of the unions would be. He declared he did not expect there would be any perceptible change in the situation today. If the orders issued by himself were in effect by Saturday night he would be satisfied. He insisted there would be no reaction on the part of the unions.

PULLMAN AT HIS SUMMER HOME.

New York, July 11.—George M. Pullman is still at his summer residence in the Thousand Islands. It was said at the office of his company this morning that he would probably remain there for a week longer.

J. D. Williams expert accountant, Office: 63 East Main street.

NEARING THE END.

The Great Strike Reaches the Turning Point.

Tonight Will Decide Who are the Victors—The Situation Up to 3 O'Clock.

The strike is nearly at an end, at least so far as Fort Wayne is concerned, if surface indications point in the right direction. Sentinel reporters visited every railway yard and office in the city today and the following is the result of their labors:

MR. LAW TO MEET THE CONDUCTORS.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Law met the Pittsburg engineers and secured from them promises to respond to calls to go out with their engines whenever their services were required. At noon today he held an informal meeting with a few of the freight conductors and brakemen and made arrangements for a meeting of all the men at 5 o'clock this afternoon. At this meeting the conductors and brakemen will be required to put themselves on record for or against the company. Those who signify a willingness to work when called upon will be placed on the active list and those who refuse will be dismissed from the service of the company. The result of the meeting is problematical.

MOVEMENT OF TRAINS.

All passenger trains on the Pittsburg, Wabash, Grand Rapids, Lake Shore and Muncie roads are running today. The Nickel Plate got four passenger trains through, two early this morning and two this afternoon. Nos. 5 and 6, the fast trains, were annulled. The special announced for this afternoon, left on time, carrying a number of delegates to the Y. P. S. C. E. convention at Cleveland.

The Pittsburg got out two long freight trains, one east, the other west bound, this morning. At 2 o'clock other trains were made up and standing in the yards ready to go out as soon as crews were secured. Mr. Walton, the trainmaster, said he could not say whether the trains would get out today or not.

THREATENING LETTERS.

Some of the employes of the Pittsburg who remained loyal to the company are in receipt of threatening letters, presumably the work of jokers. One of these epistles, which was addressed to a yard foreman, bore a skull and crossbones, and beneath was written:

"Beware! Your skin isn't worth a d—n if you are found outside of police protection. One Who Knows."

Other letters, similar in tone, were received by some of the conductors.

WILL STAND BY THE COMPANY.

Superintendent C. D. Law called a number of the Pittsburg engineers to his office yesterday afternoon for the purpose of learning what the company could expect in case the men were called upon to run engines. It is understood that the meeting was harmonious, all the engineers agreeing to work whenever their services were required. So far as the engineers are concerned the engineers are concerned the Pittsburg road will have no trouble in running trains on this end of the line.

GREAT FREIGHT BUSINESS

The Pittsburg this morning resumed business at its freight house Agent B. O. Rossington said that eastbound freight would be received without any restrictions, while westbound freight would be subject to delay. All the clerks and freight handlers were working this morning and the scene about the freight house was an animated one.

C. H. Newton, the Wabash agent, said that he hoped to resume business this evening or in the morning. The switch crews have not yet returned to work and until they do so nothing could be done here in the way of loading or unloading cars.

Agent E. S. Philley, of the Lake Shore and the Muncie, said this morning that business was never better on his lines. All through and local freights were running on schedule time, and all the clerks and warehouse men were working like beavers to handle the business.

The Nickel Plate is doing no freight business, either through or local, but preparations are being made for a resumption in a day or two. Two "lights" were sent east this morning to bring in trains that are now on the road.

STONED A TRAIN.

East bound Wabash train No. 44 was stoned by toughs, who were lying in wait for it at the roundhouse, last night. One large stone went crashing through a window and struck Joshua Wilson, a passenger, on the head and knocked him senseless He recovered consciousness shortly after the train reached the depot and was able to continue his journey. Mr. Wilson resides in Napoleon, Ohio, and was en route home. The stone which struck him passed through two window glasses, which broke its force, else the man would certainly have been killed.

SECURE SWITCH CREWS

The Pittsburg switch engines are working today, the company having succeeded in getting switch crews. A few of the old men are working, but most of the switchmen in the yards this morning were new hands at the business. Each switch engine carries four deputy United States marshals, two on each of the footboards. Trains are being made up without any apparent difficulty.

LEFT FOR CHICAGO.

C. L. Drummond left this morning over the Nickel Plate for Chicago to be in attendance at the meeting in that city tomorrow of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, of which he is a member. The meeting is called for the purpose of taking some action towards a settlement of the labor difficulties that have grown out of the great strike and to decide whether a general strike of all the trades shall be ordered. It is believed that a majority of the members of the executive council of the federation are not in favor of the radical measures advocated by Debs and his followers.

Mr. Drummond was interviewed by a Sentinel reporter previous to his leaving but he preferred not to talk much on the subject

"I do not wish to say now," he said, "what I shall advocate in reference to a settlement of this perplexing question. I have a plan to suggest to the other members of the board, but it may be modified greatly, perhaps, after I have reached Chicago and carefully looked over the situation."

"Would you not tell The Sentinel what that plan is?" was asked.

"No, I prefer to wait until I get to Chicago and make it known only at our meeting, after I have carefully looked over the ground there I am not radical on this subject, as you might suppose from the active interest that I take in labor organizations, but conservative and will advocate those kind of measures I realize the gravity of the situation of the strike and its importance not only to labor but to the business interests of the country, and shall act and vote as I think best for each."

THE O. R. C. MEETING.

The O. R. C. held a secret meeting in their hall on Calhoun street yesterday afternoon to discuss strike matters. It was expected that a definite conclusion, for or against striking, would be arrived at, but the meeting adjourned without settling the question. An O. R. C. man said this morning that all the members of the order who were not members of the American Railway union favored reporting at railway headquarters for duty, but were held back from such action by those who held opposite views. The informant also stated that the by-laws of the O. R. C. prohibited a strike of the members unless the same is ordered by the grand officers and that this clause practically forbid any connection with the strike ordered by President Debs, of the American railway union. Another meeting of the O. R. C. will be held this afternoon. The result will undoubtedly have a great bearing upon the strike so far as Fort Wayne is concerned.

COLORED MEN IN SESSION.

Laying Plans to Divide the Negro Vote in Indiana.

Indianapolis, July 11.—Members of the Colored Democratic League of Indiana, representing every congressional district in the state, were in conference here yesterday and mapped out the work of the campaign among the colored voters of the state. The delegates say that the colored voters are ripe for a change from the republican to the democratic party and all that is necessary to secure a division of the colored vote is to organize and go in search of it. They feel that they have been used by the republicans selfishly and point to the fact that there are more colored men in positions under Cleveland than there were under Harrison. The delegates passed resolutions indorsing the administration and pledging their hearty support to democratic principles.

In a discussion on the strike it developed that there was unanimity of opposition to it and the methods that had been evoked by the boycotters, and one member declared that the strikers deserved no sympathy. He contrasted the unrest of the white laboring men with the peaceful methods that have characterized the colored laborers.

Many Attending the Big Convention at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 11—The city is resplendent in yellow and white today in honor of the Christian Endeavor convention. Notwithstanding the big railroad strike thousands have arrived during the past twenty-four hours and incoming trains today are still crowded with delegates. Secretary Baer estimates that before the convention is called to order 12,000 people will have arrived to attend. The eastern and southern states are well represented, the strike apparently having principally affected the delegations from the west. The weather is delightfully cool and pleasant. This evening as a preliminary to the convention, Christian Endeavor mass meetings will be held in fifteen churches, addressed by prominent leaders of the society.

SCHOOL BOARD IS UPHELD.

Judge White Decides Pupils Must be Vaccinated.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 10.—Judge White has decided the vaccination case, which was considered a test case. The State Anti-Vaccination society asked for an order restraining the school authorities from preventing a pupil attending the public schools because he had not been vaccinated. Judge White held that the board of health had the authority to require all pupils to be vaccinated if there was exposure to smallpox and that the presence of the disease at Muncie was sufficient to warrant the board in issuing the order.

A Very Smart Young Man Breaks Into Jail.

Saloonkeeper Arrested For Selling Liquor Without a License—Others to Be Similarly Treated.

Last night about 7:30 o'clock a young lady named Mary Lichty, who lives in one of our neighboring towns, was walking on Calhoun street, near Berry, when a young tough by the name of Edward Kay, without any provocation, began to curse and swear at her and used highly insulting language, the mildest term of which was "pumpkin." Officer Colyer was passing and placed the young tough under arrest. Before Mayor Oakley this morning Kay plead guilty to the charge and was sent to jail in default of the cash. The young man will have eleven days to think over his foolishness. There are a number of other young men about Fort Wayne who will do well to profit by Kay's example. The young man arrested was at one time porter of a hotel in this city, but has lately been out of work.

MUST PAY THEIR LICENSES.

There are a number of saloons in Fort Wayne which are selling liquor without a license. Mayor Oakley has given them warning and they did not heed him. As a result a warrant was this morning issued for the arrest of one Conrad Baus, whose place of business is at the corner of Johns and Buchanan streets. Baus sold liquor to several people after he had been notified and as a result he was arrested this morning. His trial was set for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The officers are sure they have a strong case against him, as the fellow sold liquor to "spotters" sent out by the authorities. Other arrests will follow.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

The board of public safety will hold a meeting this evening for the purpose of transacting routine business and discussing the strike situation.

ON TRIAL AGAIN.

Ollie Herring, who tried to kill the sheriff on July 4, northeast of the city, is on trial at police court this afternoon. Herring has been in jail ever since the Fourth on a charge of drunkenness.

ENTIRELY DESTROYED.

The Farm House of Morton McComb Burns Down.

Children Rescued From Their Perilous Location By the Parents—Cause of Fire Unknown.

Sunday morning, about 6 o'clock, the farm home of Morton F. McComb, two miles this side of Churubusco, in Perry township, caught fire and was entirely consumed, entailing a loss of about $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. McComb were up at an early hour, as is their custom, and were in the barn lot engaged in milking. Suddenly they saw a great volume of smoke issuing from the side of the house and hastening to the scene succeeded, after some little difficulty, in rescuing their small children, who were asleep in the house. They next made an effort to save some of their furniture, but only managed to save a few articles from the kitchen. What caused the fire is a mystery, but it is thought to have originated from a defective flue.

OTHER CASUALTIES.

Last evening the little daughter of William Godfrey, of the Wabash pump house, west of the city, met with a serious accident. She was playing about a small cart when she fell and broke her right arm and was otherwise injured. Dr. Enslen attended and the little one is doing as well as can be expected.

This morning a team of horses hitched to one of Eckart's heavy meat wagons ran away on West Berry street and were stopped at the edge of town.

Ervin Kamm, the lad who was seriously injured yesterday by biting his tongue off, is some better today but is taking only liquid nourishment. His tongue was fearfully lacerated.

THEATER BURNED.

Destroyed at Brussels Just After a Performance.

Brussels, July 11.—The Palaise D'Ete theater, recently opened in this city, was destroyed by fire just after the conclusion of the performance last night. The fire spread to adjoining buildings and the total loss is estimated at 1,000,000 francs.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 11.—The town of Rhinelander had a fire this morning. The mayor of Antigo was telegraphed to for aid and sent an engine company to the rescue. The loss will not amount to more than $6,000.

War Inevitable.

Yokohoma, Japan, July 11—The government has chartered sixteen steamers belonging to the Yusen-Kaisha company, with the intention of landing 10,000 troops in Corea. Strong reinforcements will also be held in readiness in Japan. Japan has refused to withdraw her troops. War is regarded as inevitable and the Japanese government has forbidden the native press to make mention of events happening in Corea.

Bark Abandoned.

Cape Town, July 11—The American bark Mary H. Ames, Captain Knowles, bound from Samarang, Java, for Delagoa Bay, South Africa, has been abandoned at sea in a sinking condition. Part of the crew were saved and landed at Mangalore

Politics are completely overshadowed just now by the big railroad strike.

The meeting of the city council last night was a brief one. But little business of interest was transacted.

At the meeting of the city council last evening an ordinance was introduced to increase the saloon license from $100 to $250. This will revive a discussion of the question which was indulged in about a year ago when the license was raised to $100. It is thought the members of the present council favor the proposed increase to $250. The ordinance was referred to the finance committee.

An ordinance fixing the price of natural gas when sold by meter at twelve and one-half cents per 1,000 cubic feet, and providing a penalty of $100 a day for any person or corporation that shall charge more than this price, was introduced at the city council meeting last night. It was represented that while the price of gas by the stove is fixed, there is no limit to the charges by meter. The ordinance on the second reading was referred to the committe on franchises and contracts.

It is now universally admitted that the labor problem is the most serious which confronts this country. The solution thereof is a matter of doubt and perplexity. Property demands a stronger protection against the growing antagonism and tendency to violence. On the other hand, the wage earners demand more protection against the greed and rapacity of organized capital. The prospect is one of "irrepressible conflict" unless the conditions responsible for it shall be modified to conform to the principles of justice and fair dealing.

It is a somewhat peculiar fact that presidential candidates have with scarcely an exception been chosen by both political parties from the ranks of lawyers and soldiers. The republicans had soldier candidates in 1856, 1868 and in 1872; they had lawyer candidates in 1860, 1864, 1876, 1880, 1888 and 1892. Their one exception was 1884, when Mr. Blaine, who was neither a lawyer nor a soldier, was nominated, but running on the same ticket with him was General Logan. The democrats had soldier lawyer candidates for president in 1856, 1860, 1868, 1876, 1880, 1884 and 1892; they had soldier candidates in 1864 and 1880. Their one exception was 1872, when Horace Greeley was the democratic nominee.

The judiciary committee and the water works trustees at the meeting of the city council last night, presented a communication to the council representing that the suburb of South Wayne was about to issue bonds in the sum of $15,000 for the purpose of putting in a water works system, and if the council should act hastily in annexing South Wayne, many costly legal complications would be likely to arise which would greatly inconvenience the city. For this reason they asked that the ordinance annexing South Wayne should be referred to the judiciary committee with instructions to consult with James M. Henry, James M. Barrett, Val Gutermuth or other prominent citizens of that village as to what may best be done.

Loyalty Considered.

Until the present great railroad strike, in which many of the employes of the railroads have quit the service of their companies, Fort Wayne has had no strikes on the part of her workingmen so far this year, and it is a pleasure to say that in this instance the strike was not brought about because our railroad employes had any grievances against the companies.

The strike in the present instance was because the men who left their duties were in sympathy with the employes of the Pullman company and they thought that their actions would result in a settlement of this difficulty by forcing Pullman to pay to his men the wages which they so justly deserved. This they did to help their unfortunate fellow workmen and because they were bound to them by those ties which brotherhood societies carry with them.

Without discussing the wisdom of the sacrifices they made in the hope that they might thereby benefit the Pullman employes, we wish to say that the strike has been a costly one to Fort Wayne. During its continuance railroad traffic into and out of the city has been paralyzed, manufacturing interests to a large extent stopped and business generally throughout the city greatly injured. We hope our city will never again be compelled to suffer such deleterious effects.

Notwithstanding the fact that there are a large number of railroad and shopmen in Fort Wayne, many of whom were in sympathy with the strikers, and the additional fact that excitement for a time ran high, it is a credit to our city to say that there was really very little lawlessness. Such disorders and lawless deeds as were committed cannot be laid at the door way of the railroad men, for they discountenanced and advised against them. They were the acts of hoodlums and roughs and are severely condemned by the members of all the railroad and labor organizations in the city.

No force, aside from the police and the deputy marshals, has been required to preserve the peace here. The absence of incendiarism has been due largely to the law-abiding spirit of the people. It has not been the result of military interference and intimidation. Even the unsuccessful attempts to stir up trouble were traced to irresponsible thugs and loafers, who have not been connected with the railroads in any way. The general attitude of the strikers has been temperate and the feeling that the fight must be won, if won at all, by peaceable measures, has been practically unanimous.

This experience is hopefully suggestive. It demonstrates that there is very little of the mischievous element in Fort Wayne which is creating such grave trouble in Chicago. It proves that those forces which are hostile to the peace of society have made little headway here. The conservative temper of this community has been again exemplified during the progress of the most serious strike in the history of the nation.

Who Wrote It?

Hon. J. Proctor Knott of Kentucky rendered himself famous by a speech delivered in congress 23 years ago. It was given during the debate on extending the time of a railway grant for constructing a road from the St. Croix river to Duluth. Mr. Knott was opposed to the extension and argued the case in a speech full of purposely exaggerated diction and of broad humor and satire. It made a great sensation and is on record as one of the most humorous speeches ever delivered in that not over lively spot, the hall of representatives. It is rather odd, though, that the phrase in which Duluth was characterized as "the zenith city of the unsalted seas" does not occur in the printed copies of the speech. After all, was it not in the speech and is it a separate coinage of that versatile genius, Colonel Pat Donan?

Of the humorous allusions in Mr. Knott's address, perhaps the best is that in which he represents the Piegan Indians as plowing up wheat ground with buffalo bulls, then fattening the buffalo on the wheat and driving them to market in Duluth. Mr. Knott had a map near him which pictured the future of Duluth, itself a center, with concentric circles widening out from it and "taking in all the universe," as the speaker said. From time to time he pointed to this map during his address. Shouts and laughter echoed through the hall and galleries.

It has been charged that Proctor Knott did not write the speech himself, but that it was prepared for him by Colonel Pat Donan. The Washington Post has a paragraph to that effect. The Post writer says:

> Representative Bohlzler's [illegible] speech on the removal of the Indian warehouse from New York, not long ago, has frequently brought up the subject of Proctor Knott's famous Duluth oration in Congress.
>
> "Speaking of Proctor Knott's Duluth speech," said an old habitue of the house lobby yesterday, "that was a carefully prepared effort and the result of study, while Bohlzler's speech was wholly extemporaneous. The strongest part of the Knott speech, however, was that it was not prepared by Proctor Knott, but by Colonel Pat Donan, one of the greatest wits in the country and a Duluth promoter. It was committed to memory by Knott and delivered in a masterly manner, that went far to make the delivery a notable episode in congress. You have certainly observed that Knott never made another speech like that afterward."

No Congratulations From Him.

When in the British house of commons an address of congratulation was voted on the birth of the York baby, an unexampled scene occurred. James Keir Hardie, the labor leader, arose and said:

> I owe allegiance to no hereditary ruler. The motion proposes to raise to importance an event of everyday occurrence. I shall be pleased to join in the ordinary congratulations if I meet the child's parents. But when the house of commons, representing the nation, is asked to join its congratulations, then, in the interest of the dignity of the house, I protest.
>
> It is a matter of small concern to me whether the future ruler of this country be a genuine article or a spurious one. The motion was made because the child was born in the royal family, and the house has a right to ask what particular blessing the royal family has conferred upon the nation.
>
> There is the Prince of Wales. What special blessing has he conferred upon the nation that we should rejoice with him? I know nothing in the career of his royal highness which commends itself especially to me. [Loud interruptions.]
>
> We are told that a fierce light beats upon the throne, but sometimes we catch glimpses of his royal highness on the race course. [Loud "Oh's!" and cries of "Question!"]
>
> This child will be surrounded by sycophants and flatterers and will be taught to believe himself superior to creation. In due course of time he will tour the world, with [illegible] of morganatic marriages in his train. [Cries of dissent.]
>
> As the house has not found time to vote condolence with the widows, orphans and others who are suffering from the terrible colliery explosion in Wales, I protest against the present business.

What was the house of representatives about to defeat the amendment providing for the teaching of the English language in the public schools of New Mexico in case of its admission to statehood? The English language ought to be taught not only in New Mexico, but in the public schools of every state in this Union. Every state ought to make laws to that effect. Indeed the matter is important enough to call for the passage of a national law. We do not want any born citizens of this country growing to manhood and womanhood unable to read and understand the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States in English. More than that, this ought to be required of every naturalized citizen. A man who does not care enough about the right of suffrage in this English speaking republic to learn English in order to get it does not deserve it.

Mexico is evidently dreaming of being a commercial power on the sea. The last Mexican congress, just before adjournment, passed a number of measures looking to the establishment and fostering of a merchant marine. By the new laws either native or foreign built vessels may register under the Mexican flag. Foreigners may buy Mexican vessels just as citizens may, and bounties are to be paid for shipbuilding. It will be interesting to watch the effect of these encouraging laws in the next few years.

A writer in the New York Evening Post suggests that anarchists are lunatics and should be dealt with as such. When well developed anarchistic symptoms are manifest in an individual, he should be shut up in an asylum, as other insane people are. This would have a tendency to make these gentry scarcer than they are now.

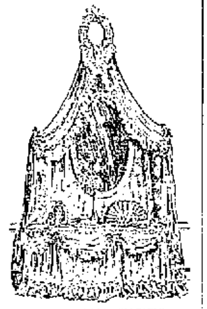
A TRANSFORMATION.

POSSIBILITIES OF BEAUTY WITHIN THE HOUSEWIFE'S REACH.

How to Change Objects of Cheap Hideousness Into Veritable Delights of the Eye. Designs For Dressing Table, Washstand and Bureau.

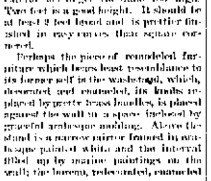
Women all sigh for beauty in their surroundings, but are very apt to neglect such possibilities as lie within their grasp. The Art Interchange suggests a possibility for those who are the possessors of a cheap cottage set. Numbered with designs for the transformation of the various pieces is the following for a dressing table:

The old fashioned oval mirror is taken from an old bureau. Paint the dark frame white and fasten it on the wall at a suitable height from the table. The curtains are hung from an oak wreath of papier mache, painted white, suspended from the ceiling, caught back and fastened to the wall by festoons of pink roses and left to fall in graceful folds to the floor. The rough frame for the table is very simple, with four stout square legs, mortised into a seven-eighths top, covered and draped. Be careful not to get the table too high. Two feet is a good height. It should be at least 2 feet broad and is prettier finished in easy curves than square cornered.



DESIGN FOR A DRESSING TABLE.

Perhaps the piece of remodeled furniture which bears least resemblance to its former self is the washstand, which, denuded and enameled, its knobs replaced by pretty brass handles, is placed against the wall in a space inclosed by graceful arabesque molding. Above the stand is a narrow mirror framed in arabesque painted white and the interval filled up by marine paintings on the wall; the bureau, redecorated, enameled and brass handled, is mounted by a long, narrow mirror hung horizontally above it, framed like that over the washstand, in arabesques.



DESIGN FOR THE WASHSTAND.

The bedstead, having been enameled in white, must be dressed to harmonize with the remainder of the room.

The room into which our transformed furniture is to be put should be papered with a light and delicate pattern and floored with fine white matting. It requires only a wicker sofa and a chair or two, painted white and cushioned with some plain color harmonious with the hangings, to complete it.

Summer Dresses.

A novelty is the open eyeleted embroidery on chambery.

Other embroideries in open wheel, star or compass designs cover an entire skirt of chambery. Cool ecru linens came into such favor last summer that they promise to be very generally worn again in coat and jacket suits of various kinds. Many of the imported organdie and dotted muslin dresses have plain colored batiste or lawn for the waist lining and foundation skirt instead of the silk, on which they were formerly mounted. Something of the transparency of the outer material is preserved by this arrangement, and it makes a much cooler dress for midsummer.

Very refined thin dresses are made of new embroidered mulls, the white ground wrought with rings of pink or blue embroidery in lengthwise stripes that curve and alternate with net stripes woven in the mull. The net stripes have buttonhole edges that give the effect of insertion sewed in with narrow beading. White moire ribbons and net insertions trim these French gowns. China moire ribbons are very effective accessories for muslin gowns. On white dresses they may be white, with vague pink tinted blossoms, or else the moire ground is clear green or light blue powdered with rosebuds.

Butter colored embroideries are shown in the large shops as trimmings for various summer gowns. They are done on sheer mull and come in both open and close designs, sometimes with a lacelike edge on the points or scallops.

Fruit Roly Poly Pudding.

A pint of flour, 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a tablespoonful of butter and milk to make a soft dough. Mix and roll out half an inch thick, nearly square. Spread with sliced apples, peaches, berries of any kind; roll it up, put into a biscuit tin and bake. Or roll it up in a floured cloth, tie up and steam. Serve with liquid sauce.

DECORATING A PIAZZA.

Objects Suited to Its Interior Adornment and the Comfort of Its Occupants.

Can anything be imagined more delightful than the calm repose of a shady piazza on a hot summer day? To enjoy such repose to the full one must be surrounded by comforts that appeal to the senses in addition to those that minister to the body, in the shape of restful seats, seductive cushions, handy tables and refreshing shade. As in our country cottages we make the piazza our habitation, the least we can do is to direct our attention to its decoration. It is, moreover, encouraging to note how little outlay is needed to produce charming and artistic results, provided we can exercise some ingenuity and are not afraid of a little trouble.

All kinds of comfortable basket or wicker chairs are acceptable. One or two suitable for reclining, known commonly as steamer chairs, form a welcome addition. The chairs should be furnished with cushions made of suitable material. Any kind of cotton or linen goods slightly embroidered or tinted and outlined are pretty. A novelty for the piazza is a small screen with two or three shelves to keep off the draft on a breezy day. The shelves serve for books, needlework or writing materials. Wicker tables are the handiest things imaginable on a piazza for light refreshments. Sometimes these tables are made of wood covered with matting fitted into bamboo frames. These are inexpensive and can be met with at Japanese stores. Should space permit, a few large palms standing about in ornamental pots or painted tubs break the monotony of a straight wall. Standing rustic baskets filled with ferns answer the same purpose. Baskets planted with trailing plants suspended at intervals are also always a thing of beauty if properly tended. A couple of tall, straight, gayly colored jars placed on either side of the entrance to the house, for holding parasols or umbrellas not at the moment in active service, are both useful and decorative. Two or three bright rugs of different sizes do not come amiss. A hammock must likewise not be forgotten.

Some means of lighting the piazza at night should be taken into consideration. For this purpose a few Chinese lanterns suspended on hooks give a soft light. A tall standing lamp of bent iron work is appropriate and can be moved at pleasure. If a lamp is hung in the entrance, it should be of colored glass, to subdue the light, says The Art Interchange.

Hints For Piano Players.

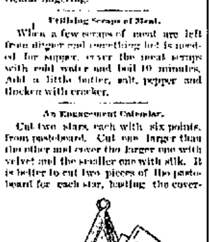
The more rapid the execution upon the piano the more important the fingering. In slow passages greater diversity of fingering is possible and greater license allowable; in fast passages only one fingering generally is the best. Care and ingenuity should be exercised to discover it, rather than practice for days and months against hope with combinations of fingerings that may have a logic of their own, but are too difficult. Players will sometimes practice very difficult passages for years without conquering them, simply because it does not occur to them to improve the fingering. The passage in the "Fantaisie-Impromptu," in C sharp, by Chopin, seventh and eighth measures, is very difficult and unsafe when excluding the thumb from the black keys, while it is not hard and quite safe when the thumb is taken on C sharp, passing over to B sharp with the second. With the fingering first alluded to this run will remain a source of anxiety to the player even after years of the most thorough practice, while with the one last explained a dozen occasional slow repetitions will suffice to keep it fluent, and instead of dreading it the player will desire to perform it, says a writer in The Etude. Pupils who read very slowly at first cannot see the need of a particular fingering.

Utilizing Scraps of Meat.

When a few scraps of meat are left from dinner and something hot is needed for supper, cover the meat scraps with cold water and boil 10 minutes. Add a little butter, salt, pepper and thicken with cracker.

An Engagement Calendar.

Cut two stars, each with six points, from pasteboard. Cut one larger than the other and cover the larger one with velvet and the smaller one with silk. It is better to cut two pieces of the pasteboard for each star, basting the covering for each one of them on and then overcasting them together. Print the days of the week on the smaller star, after it is covered, between each of the points, as in the illustration. To do this it is better to use gold ink and a pen, or gold paint and a fine brush will answer, if care is taken. The letters should be drawn with pencil first.



FOR ENGAGEMENTS.

Buttonhole stitch a dress ring with twist the shade of the velvet and sew it to one of the points to hang the star by. Place the smaller star over the larger one, catching them together at the points of the smaller star. Notes, cards and invitations for the different days can then be slipped into spaces between the points of this calendar, originally illustrated for The Household.

Still In Doubt.

The cabin stood a short distance from the mountain road, and as I pulled my horse up in front of it a woman hanging out clothes in the yard turned to see what I wanted.

"You don't remember me," I said after saluting her.

"I reckon not," she answered in a puzzled tone as she came down to the fence.

"I was here last year to see your husband about some timber and took dinner with you."

Her face brightened immediately.

"Oh, yes," she exclaimed; "I recollect now. Won't you git down an come in?"

"Thank you, no, but I'd like to see your husband."

The smile went out of her face instantly.

"He's gone," she said.

"And you are a widow?" I asked, thinking, of course, the man was dead.

"Well, I reckon I'm a sort uv a one," she explained, "but I ain't shore whether it's a grass widder or a hay widder."

I didn't understand and told her so.

"It's this way," she continued, "day before yistiddy Bill run away with Sam Medders's wife, and pap and Sam an my brother Jim has gone after him. Ef they ketch him, I'm a hay widder; ef they don't, I reckon I'll be a grass widder, anyway, tell somebody comes along to take Bill's place."

As I left that neighborhood before the guarding party returned, I don't know to this day whether I'm grass or hay.—Detroit Free Press.

Northward.

The poet sighed.

There was a look of deep unrest in his expressive eyes.

"I long," he muttered, "for some hot-tub—"

The useful citizen brushed the ashes from his cigar.

"Why?"—

His manner had all the seeming of kindliness, whatever may have been his ulterior motive in the suggestion.

—"don't you join some of these arctic exploring expeditions?"

The poet started violently, and then a moment's reflection convinced him that that was one way to secure that for which he yearned.—Detroit Tribune.

All Very Clear.

She was explaining the whole game to her chaperon.

"They have nine innings so that every man on the nine may pitch one inning," she said in a tone that proved she knew it all.

"But there are sometimes ten innings, are there not?" asked the other.

"Yes, often," she replied, rising to the occasion, "and in that case the umpire pitches for both sides."—Yale Record.

CHECKMATED.

My ladye spent a golden houre
Last nighte with me atte chesse,
And only those who know her power
Ye dire result can guesse.
Ye little hands, like leaf of ferne,
Can sore destruction worke;
Inne those deepe eyes a smile lies,
A subtle [illegible] doth lurke!

My ladye loves ye game of chesse,
Ye tilte contested is like;
Ye little knights less when hands they presse
Their white tiny cohorts yielde.
Ah, if I dared to presse my suit
Would she look cold and grave?
Or would she smile in sweetness mute,
Ye answer I doe crave?

My bishops and my towers all pleade;
My knights ride on her queste;
My pawns shall to do her slightest needs;
My castle guard her reste;

DESERTION.

The sun was just rising as the small rubbish steamer, or, to be more correct, steam barge, the Bulldog, steamed past the sleeping town of Gravesend at a good six knots per hour.

There had been a little discussion on the way between her crew and the engineer, who down in his grimy little engine room did his own stoking and everything else necessary. The crew, consisting of captain, mate and boy, who were doing their first trip on a steamer, had been transferred at the last moment from their sailing barge, the Witch, and found to their discomfort that the engineer, who had not expected to sail so soon, was terribly and abusively drunk. Every moment he could spare from his engines he thrust the upper part of his body through the small hatchway and rowed with his commander.

"Ahoy, barge," he shouted, popping up like a jack in the box, after a brief cessation of hostilities.

"Don't take no notice of 'im," said the mate. "'E's got a bottle of brandy down there, an he's 'alf mad."

"If I knew anything of them blessed engines," growled the skipper, "I'd go an hit 'im over the head."

"But you don't," said the mate, "and neither do I, so you'd better keep quiet."

"You think you're a fine fellow," continued the engineer, "standing up there an playing with that little wheel. You think you're doing all the work. What's that boy doing? Send him down to stoke."

"Go down," said the skipper, grinning with fury, and the boy reluctantly obeyed.

"You think," said the engineer pathetically after he had cuffed the boy's head and dropped him down below by the scruff of his neck, "you think because I've got a black face I'm not a man. There's many a holly face 'ides a good 'art."

"I don't think nothing about it," growled the skipper. "You do your work, and I'll do mine."

"Don't you give me none of your back answers," bellowed the engineer, "'cos I won't 'ave 'em."

The skipper shrugged his shoulders and exchanged glances with his sympathetic mate. "Wait till I get 'im ashore," he murmured.

"The b'iler is wore out," said the engineer, reappearing after a hasty dive below. "It may bust at any moment."

As though to confirm his words, fearful sounds were heard proceeding from below.

"It's only the boy," said the mate. "He's scared—natural."

"I thought it was the b'iler," said the skipper, with a sigh of relief. "It was loud enough."

As he spoke the boy got his head out of the hatchway, and rendered desperate with fear fairly fought his way past the engineer and gained the deck.

"Very good," said the engineer as he followed him on deck and staggered to the side. "I've had enough of you lot."

"Hadn't you better go down to them engines?" shouted the skipper.

"Am I your slave?" demanded the engineer tearfully. "Tell me that—am I your slave?"

"Go down and do your work like a sensible man," was the reply.

At these words the engineer took umbrage at once, and scowling fiercely removed his greasy jacket and flung his cap on the deck. He then finished the brandy which he had brought up with him and gazed owlishly at the Kentish shore.

"I'm going to have a wash," he said loudly, and sitting down removed his boots.

"Go down to the engines first," said the skipper, "and I'll send the boy to you with a bucket and some soap."

"Bucket!" replied the engineer scornfully as he moved to the side. "I'm going to have a proper wash."

"Hold him," roared the skipper suddenly. "Hold him!"

The mate, realizing the situation, rushed to seize him, but the engineer, with a mad laugh, put his hands on the side and vaulted into the water. When he rose, the steamer was 20 yards ahead.

"Go astarn!" yelled the mate.

"How can I go astarn when there's nobody at the engines?" shouted the skipper as he hung onto the wheel and brought the boat's head sharply around. "Git a line ready."

The mate, with a coil of rope in his hand, rushed to the side, but his benevolent efforts were frustrated by the engineer, who, seeing the boat's head making straight for him, saved his life by an opportune dive. The steamer rushed by.

"Turn 'er eng'in!" screamed the mate. The captain was already doing so, and in a remarkably short space of time the boat, which had described a complete circle, was making again for the engineer.

"Look out for the line," shouted the mate warningly.

"I don't want your line," yelled the engineer. "I'm going ashore."

"Come aboard!" shouted the captain imploringly as they swept past again. "We can't manage the engines."

"Put her round again," said the mate. "I'll go for him with the boat. Haul her in, boy!"

The boat, which was dragging astern, was hauled close, and the mate tumbled into her, followed by the boy, just as the captain was in the middle of another circle, to the intense indignation of a crowd of shipping, large and small, which was trying to get by.

"Ahoy!" yelled the master of a tug which was towing a large ship. "Take that steam roundabout out of the way. What the thunder are you doing?"

"Picking up my engineer," replied the captain as he steamed right across the other's bows and nearly ran down a sailing barge, the skipper of which, a Salvation Army man, was nobly fighting with his feelings.

"Why don't you stop?" he yelled.

"'Cos I can't," wailed the skipper of the Bulldog as he threaded his way between a huge steamer and a schooner, who, in avoiding him, were getting up a little collision on their own account.

"Ahoy, Bulldog, ahoy!" called the mate. "Stand by to pick us up! We've got him."

The skipper smiled in an agonized fashion as he shut past, hotly pursued by his boat. The feeling on board of the other craft as they got out of the way of the Bulldog and nearly ran down her boat, and then in avoiding that nearly ran down something else, cannot be put into plain English, but several captains ventured into the domains of the ornamental with marked success.

"Shut off steam!" yelled the engineer as the Bulldog went by again. "Draw the fires then."

"Who's going to steer while I do it?" bellowed the skipper as he left the wheel for a few seconds to try to get a line to throw to them.

By this time the commotion in the river was frightful, and the captain's steering as he went on his round again something marvelous to behold. A strange lack of sympathy on the part of brother captains added to his troubles. Every craft he passed had something to say to him, busy as they were, and the remarks were as monotonous as they were insulting. At last, just as he was resolving to run his boat straight down the river until he came to a halt for want of steam, the mate caught the rope he flung, and the Bulldog went down the river with her boat made fast to her stern.

"Come aboard, you—you lunatic!" he shouted.

"Not afore I knows 'ow I stand," said the engineer, who was now beautifully sober and in full possession of a somewhat acute intellect.

"What do you mean?" demanded the skipper.

"I don't come aboard," shouted the engineer, "until you and the mate and the boy all swear as you won't say nothing about this little game."

"I'll report you the moment I get ashore," roared the skipper. "I'll give you in charge for desertion. I'll"——

With a supreme gesture the engineer prepared to dive, but the watchful mate fell on his neck and tripped him over a seat.

"Come aboard," cried the skipper, aghast at such determination. "Come aboard, and I'll give you a licking when we get ashore instead."

"Honor bright?" inquired the engineer.

"How bright," chorused the three.

The engineer, with all the honors of war, came on board, and after remarking that he felt chilly bathing on an empty stomach went down below and began to stoke. In the course of the voyage he said it was worth while making such a fool of himself, if only to see the skipper's beautiful steering, warmly asseverating that there was not another man on the river that could have done it. Before this insidious flattery the skipper's wrath melted like snow before the sun, and by the time they reached port he would as soon have thought of hitting his own father as his smooth tongued engineer.—W. W. Jacobs in Short Stories.

Italian Art Has Spent Its Force.

In the nature of things it was not to be supposed that much excellence of painting could come out of Italy, says Mr. John C. Van Dyke, in writing of the display of painting at the World's fair in The Century.

As well expect fine marbles from modern Greece or bas-reliefs from Mesopotamia. The flower is blown, and even the stalk is in a dry rot. The art genius of Italy typified itself in countless forms during the renaissance. It spent its force, culminating with Titian and dying with Tiepolo in an art peculiar to its age and people. The present race cannot repeat the triumphs of the past, nor have they the versatility or strength to produce a new art in keeping with new tastes.

The attempts of most of the moderns are pitiful in their weakness. Pictures of the Roman Campagna, with ruined aqueducts, pictures of the pyramids, St. Peter's, the Forum, Pompeiian flower girls at fountains, monks, fruit sellers, beggars—how much better are they than the tourist pictures of castled Chillon or the Jungfrau with an Alpine glow collar around its top! Penelope's suitors with the bow of Ulysses and the modern Italians with the palette of Titian! What could they do that would not seem petty by comparison? That which is Italian is mediocre in quality, and that which is very good is not Italian.

A Convalescent's Bedtime.

A convalescent patient should never be permitted to sit up late at night. After the evening meal it is well for all visitors to be excluded from the room, and the patient's mind should be kept as free from excitement as possible. The hour for retiring should be early and such means employed for aiding sleep as may be directed by the physician. A glass of hot milk at bedtime is often a good device for promoting sleep.—New York Journal.

Go With Us Around The World.

We offer to our subscribers the most beautiful art work ever published at a merely nominal cost. This is an entirely new work, every plate being made especially for it. It is called

"FAMOUS PAINTINGS OF THE WORLD."

It is a collection of PHOTOGRAPHIC REPRODUCTIONS OF GREAT MODERN MASTERPIECES. It contains specimens of the great paintings of all art-producing nations and includes ONE HUNDRED OF THE MOST NOTABLE PAINTINGS at the WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

It exemplifies the most ATTRACTIVE, INTERESTING, PURE and INSPIRING qualities of contemporaneous art. It contains a superb introduction by the greatest living novelist, GEN. LEW. WALLACE.

GEMS OF MODERN ART

Reproduced by the perfected half-tone process, having the appearance of the most perfect photographs. So large a collection of photographs of paintings could not be purchased for less than $1,000, and yet these photographic reproductions are offered to the public at the insignificant price of TEN CENTS for each portfolio.

Every picture is described by the brightest and best of America's writers on art subjects. These descriptions are not technical or prolix, but bright and interesting.

The materials for this publication have been gathered out of the most Famous Galleries and finest Private Collections in the Old World and the New.

All eminent artists are represented, but the minor artists and young aspirants for artistic honors—whose names are not yet household words have not been overlooked. The Committee of Selection have often chosen a meritorious and pleasing picture by a comparatively unknown artist in preference to an unattractive subject by a painter of prominence. This magnificent art work is in itself a Home Gallery of Famous Masterpieces.

Do not fail to secure the first portfolio at once. The first Portfolio contains sixteen reproductions of great paintings, and also the magnificent introduction by GENERAL LEW. WALLACE.

All the future portfolios will contain sixteen reproductions of MASTERPIECES OF MODERN ART.

How to Secure This Series: Clip three "Famous Paintings of the World" coupons from the third page of this paper and send them together with ten cents to the Portfolio Department of "The Sentinel" and no part called for will be sent to your address by mail.

The first three portfolios can be had by calling at the office.

The entire series consists of 20 parts, each part contains 16 photographic reproductions of great paintings of the world.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

A New Trunk Line Company Under Organization.

Kerr Murray and Rhinesmith & Simonson Close Their Shops—Local Gossip.

Trainmaster C. F. Sister, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday.

H. K. Mudd and Frank J. O'Brien, apprentices at the Pittsburg machine shop, have taken a week's vacation.

The Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education will hold its first annual meeting in Brooklyn, N. Y., August 20 to 23.

The Bass company has received some of the patterns for the castings for the 3000 horse power engine which the works will build this summer.

The Kerr Murray works are closed for want of coke. Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory is also closed on account of being unable to ship in lumber.

The Pittsburg has reduced its special police force and many of the shopmen who were thus engaged since last Thursday, returned to their work in the shops this morning.

Jerre O'Connors, W. VanAllen, I. Bolt and J. E. Quinn, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty today. Some are sick and others are looking after private business.

Fred Strope, W. O. Bassett and A. Slagle, machinists, returned to their work in the Pittsburg shops this morning. They were off duty several days on account of nothing to do.

The strike has created quite a boom in business with the express companies Not in many years, it is stated, has their business been heavier than since the strike was inaugurated and stopped freight trains.

One of the evils of the strike will be the suspension of new work on the railroads. Strict economy will be the rule for some time to come in order to offset the meagre earnings of the lines during the past three or four weeks.

Unless the strike situation changes very materially this week, the Bass blacksmith shop will be compelled to close the latter part of the week. This department is nearly out of coal, although it has a big lot of it on cars at Toledo.

Ed. Leach celebrated the seventy-third anniversary of his birth last evening by giving a party to his friends. There were twenty-five guests and they were royally entertained. Mr. Leach is a carpenter and for many years has been employed in the Pittsburg shops.

An official of the Vanderbilt lines says the report that the Vanderbilts are to build a line from the terminus of their Beech Creek line at Mahaffey to Pittsburg, in order to gain entrance to that city as a rival of the Pennsylvania lines, is not correct, so far as the Vanderbilts are concerned.

New York begins to feel the strike in the west. The representatives of the following western roads in New York have been laid off and their offices virtually closed until further orders: The Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Northwestern, the Chicago and Rock Island and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

Manager C. L. Dassler, of the Pennsylvania Base Ball club, received a letter this morning from Manager S. B. Hartranft, of the Allegheny club, stating that the latter club had completed arrangements for the reception of the Fort Wayne boys at the shopmen's picnic at Allegheny July 21. Mr. Hartranft also said that his club was pleased with the hospitality received on the occasion of the Eagle lake picnic and hoped to make the visit of the Pennsylvania club to Allegheny just as pleasant.

A new deal is in progress in connection with the proposed new Trunk Line railway system which is to enter Pittsburg. By the new plans the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, the Beech Creek and the Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie railways will be connected. It is stated that the plans for the new line have progressed so rapidly that contracts for grading and construction will be let within the next sixty days. Prominent eastern capitalists interested in the proposed line have been meeting at Pittsburg this week. Among the number were C. O. Billings, of Boston, and G. E. Gillette, of New York.

While the traveling salesmen have a committee at Washington trying to induce congress to pass a law to permit the railroads to issue interchangeable mileage tickets, a half a dozen roads in this state and Ohio which have had such tickets on sale for several years have gotten tired of it and are abandoning the practice. The only line absolutely sure of its revenue is the one selling the ticket. The roads are inclined to be incredulous concerning the promise of the commercial men that if allowed the tickets they will stop the dealing with scalpers. Such tickets would open a wide field for the scalpers if the commercial men should deal with them.

The effects of the strike on Chicago railroad traffic are clearly perceptible in the official returns of last week's shipments. They fell off from 42,938 tons from the previous week and 45,793 tons for the corresponding week last year to 11,654 tons last week. The roads carried tonnage as follows: Michigan Central, 1,774; Wabash, 1,277; Lake Shore, 1,665; Fort Wayne, 1,171; Panhandle, 1,190; Baltimore and Ohio, 52; Grand Trunk, 1,084; Nickel Plate, 1,338; Erie, 2,115. Shipments were made up of the following articles in tons: Flour, 377; grain and mill stuffs, 3,609; provisions, lard, etc., 3,000; Dressed beef, 2 252; butter, 552; hides, 285; lumber, 806; miscellaneous, 515.

NAME THEIR TICKET.

The Republicans of Wayne Township Hold a Convention.

Frank Gibson for Trustee, C. W. Pyke for Assessor and Strauss, Scarlet, Tyler and Soliday for Justices.

The republicans of Wayne township met last night at the city hall for the purpose of nominating a township ticket, and, because they had but little expectation of electing anybody on it, it was a good natured convention.

Early in the campaign, immediately after the city election, they imagined they could elect both their county and township tickets this fall, but that hope went glimmering after the democratic county convention met and placed such a strong and excellent ticket in the field and the township followed by nominating an equally meritorious and able list of candidates for office.

Lured on, however, by the false idea they got into their heads nearly two months ago, candidates for the township offices had sprung up as thick as junebugs and they held on to their forlorn hope until their township convention met last night, and, as a consequence, there were a number of candidates for each of the offices for which nominations were to be made.

The hall was pretty well filled with delegates and spectators, when at 8 o'clock, W. J. Vesey, the chairman of the republican central committee, arose and called the meeting to order. E. K. Dorr nominated Will Wilson for chairman and he was elected with only one vote cast against him—that of Sandy Drummond, who was charged with being a populist and hence declared to have no right to vote in a republican convention.

Mr. Wilson, on taking the chair made a speech. It was just such a speech as only "Billy" knows how to make, and it teemed with eloquence, notwithstanding the fact that he started off in the stereotype style of the 9,999 men upon whom similar honors have been conferred. He began with "Gentlemen and fellow republicans. I realize and appreciate the honor and compliment that you have conferred upon me, but I shall not make a speech. If you had expected an oration you would have chosen somebody else than myself to preside over the deliberations of this convention," and then after telling them to nominate a good ticket and saying something derogatory of the democratic ticket, asked who they desired to have act as secretary.

The name of O. E. Mohler was suggested, but he declined, as did also Max Blitz, and Mr. H. C. Hartman was then elected secretary by acclamation. Mr. Hartman was enthusiastically cheered as he came forward to the secretary's table, as was also Mr. B. W. Skelton, who was chosen assistant secretary, but both of them positively refused to make speeches.

Ex-Postmaster C. R. Higgins, the artificial ice dealer, then moved that the convention proceed with the nomination of candidates and, after the motion was carried, the chair called for the candidates for trustees and the secretary read the following names: Frank Gibson, F. D. Paulus, Geo. W. Ely, Capt. J. V. Hiler and A. C. Beaver. After the candidates had shown themselves (speech making having been shut off) the first ballot was taken and resulted as follows:

Paulus, 37½; Gibson, 31½; Beaver, 11; Ely, 18; Hiler, 5.

On the second ballot Paulus received 48 and Gibson 47 votes. The third ballot resulted in Mr. Gibson receiving 51 votes and Mr. Paulus 48 and on motion of Mr. Paulus the nomination was made unanimous.

For assessor there were only two candidates, Charles W. Pyke and Joseph Lombard. The ballot resulted: Pyke, 67; Lombard, 49, and on motion of Mr. Lombard the nomination was made unanimous.

When the time came for naming the candidates for justice of the peace, the township being entitled to four, Attorney O. N. Heaton, with South Wayne's usual desire to claim her "share of things," moved that J. S. Tyler, her candidate, be nominated by acclamation, claiming that under the law the corporation was entitled to one justice. This led to quite a discussion and it was finally decided that South Wayne would have to take her chances on the ballot.

The candidates for justice of the peace were then named as follows: Chester Scarlet, J. S. Tyler, N. C. Miller, Emanuel Strass, H. H. Bossler, J. A. Soliday, L. C. Heck and Joseph Hirsch. They all came forward and made their "bow" except Mr. Miller. His partner, Mr. A. H. Dougall, appeared for him and, being greeted with enthusiastic and continued cheers, said: "I am not Mr. Miller. He is a handsomer man than I am and I want you to vote for him."

After considerable discussion and wire pulling and "fixing up," one of the delegates moved that the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes should be declared the nominees of the convention. It was finally pounded into the heads of those who favored this plan that the only proper way to do was to nominate by a majority of the votes cast and the convention proceeded with balloting.

The first resulted: Strauss, 55; Soliday, 30; Scarlett, 11; Miller, 5; Heck, 2; Bossler, 1; Hirsch, 1; G. W. Wilson, 1. This resulted in the nomination of Mr. Strauss as one of the justices.

On the second ballot, a large majority of the delegates went to Soliday, and he was elected by the following vote: Soliday, 73; Scarlett, 20; Heck, 7; Miller, 5; R. B. Hanna, 1.

The third ballot was ordered for another candidate, and the delegates this time very generally voted for Scarlett. The vote was as follows: Scarlett, 82; Tyler, 10; Miller, 6; Heck, 5; Bossler, 2; Hirsch, 1.

It required only one more ballot to secure the fourth candidate, Mr. Tyler having received the nomination by the following vote: Tyler, 69; Miller, 21; Bossler, 13; Hirsch, 2; Heck 1.

Both Bob Hanna and Will Wilson received one vote each for justice.

The names announced for constable were Jacob Gindlesperger, Robert Renfrew, William Engle and Joseph Hirsch. As there were four nominations to be made, these four candidates were on motion selected by acclamation.

battalion of infantry and two companies of the Fourteenth infantry of San Francisco to remain in possession of the water front until further orders. Scarcely had the regulars reached the depot when the militia was fired upon by strikers, who were ambushed on the Yolo county side of the river. The militia returned the fire, and over 200 shots were exchanged. The strikers abandoned their situation and escaped in the heavy brush which lines the river bank. It is thought one striker was wounded, as he was seen to stagger along the levee.

Sacramento, July 11.—About 12 a. m. General Superintendent Filmore instructed Division Superintendent Wright to proceed to get out trains. An engine was immediately got ready and is now engaged in clearing the tracks preparatory to moving trains. Hundreds of people are in the vicinity of the depot, but no demonstration is being made.

DEBS WILL RETIRE.

Turned the Strike Over to Other Hands.

Chicago, July 11.—President Debs, when seen today, said he had issued no further orders and expected to issue none. "The matter is entirely out of my hands now, and I have nothing more to say. The leaders of the other labor organizations have ordered strikes, not at my request, and they are handling the affair. That the general strike will be successful, I have no doubt. It makes no difference if the railroads can run trains, for they will have no freight to carry with this general tie up of business in effect."

FROM MANY POINTS.

The Situation at Different Cities in the Country.

San Francisco, July 11.—No troops were landed in Oakland last night and there nothing occurred to break the peace which prevailed for several days. The railroad company put water in two switch engines on the Mole and prepared them for work, but did not attempt to get steam. One engine at the narrow gauge round house at Alameda Point was fired up but did not work. The scouts of the strikers kept the main body informed of these preparations, but made no effort to interfere with them. Trains on the coast division are started again, the San Jose blockade having been raised. Five trains came in and seven were sent out yesterday. Chief Crowley has issued an order declaring that no more out door public meetings shall be held while the present touchy feeling prevails. There have been no local disturbances, but the police details in the populous districts have been more than trebeled. Interviews with the heads of some of the principal labor organizations indicate that they would go out if a sympathy strike were ordered by the Knights of Labor and American Federation.

Benson, Ari., July 11.—The Twenty-fourth United States infantry, under orders from Washington to proceed from Fort Huachua to Santa Fe to aid in suppressing the strike, boarded the train of the Guaymas branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad at Huachua station. The engineer and fireman cut off their engine and came to Benson, leaving the train standing at Huachua. Master Mechanic Forsythe took charge of the locomotive, returned to Huachua and brought in the train, four hours late. The train was tied up here, as engineers refused to haul it with guards on the locomotive. Captain Thompson, in command, has orders from General McCook, at Denver, not to move without guard. The situation may precipitate a strike on the Southern Pacific lines in Arizona.

SWITCHMEN GO OUT AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 11.—The switchmen of the "Soo" road in this city to the number of about forty struck this morning. Their grievance is that they were required to switch cars from boycotted roads. This is the first trouble the Soo has had, as it owns its own sleepers. Thus far the strike has not had serious effect on train service other than to delay it considerably.

THREATENED THE YARDMASTER.

Toledo, Ohio, July 11.—J. F. Moore, yardmaster of the Lake Shore at Air Line junction, this morning found a white cap notice tacked to his front door notifying him that if he switched any more cars or did any more switchmen's duty in the yards he would be "roped" forthwith. He has been doing switchmen's work all day, however.

Anderson, Ind., July 11.—All the strikers on the Michigan division of the Big Four have returned to work. This morning the strike was declared off for good and all trains were running.

Bridge Burned.

Detroit, Minn., July 11.—The Jenny bridge, two miles west of Glyndon on the Northern Pacific, burned about 3 a. m. A kerosene can was found near the place. The bridge had been fired in three places. But for the timely discovery by a farmer, train No. 1, with a large number of passengers would have dashed through to certain death and destruction.

WILL NOT STRIKE.

President Mahon Does Not Think a Walkout Would Hurt Pullman.

Columbus, Ohio, July 11.—President W. D. Mahon, of the National Street Railway Employes' association, arrived home from Chicago at midnight. He said the street railway employes would not be called out, as he could not see that doing so would affect Pullman in the least, though some local unions might strike out of sympathy on their own account.

DON'T GET THEIR PAY.

The Ironworkers at Elwood, Ind., on a Strike.

All the ironworks employes went on strike here this morning. The men claim they have not been paid for several weeks. The managers threaten to bring in foreigners to fill the strikers' places and trouble is feared.

Another Tragedy.

Kittanning, Pa., July 11.—At Whitesburg, near here, yesterday, William Wyant, a farmer, aged forty-five years, shot and killed his wife and then suicided by blowing the top of his head off. The cause of the tragedy is a mystery. Wyant was one of the wealthiest and most respected citizens in the county.

West to Chicago.

Columbus, Ohio, July 11.—Patrick McBryde, secretary-treasurer coal miners' union, has gone to Chicago to be present at the Gomper's conference Thursday afternoon.

The Doctor's Cash Promise.

"This is a true tale, and it points a moral. A physician of this city had treated a certain gentleman and was asked the question, "How much do I owe you?"

"Three dollars," said the physician.

But when the patient drew forth a $10 goldpiece the healer looked chopfallen and asked anxiously, "Have you no change?"

"No," was the answer. "Only this and two nickels."

"Then give me the two nickels," said the physician, "for if I take the gold I shall be $7 out."

The unhappy man had rashly promised his wife that all the gold taken in by him in the discharge of his calling should be his wife's perquisite.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SCRATCHED 3 YEARS

Suffered, Scratched and Bled. Doctors No Relief. Cured by Two Sets Cuticura Remedies.

Nothing like CUTICURA REMEDIES was ever manufactured. For three years have I suffered with a sore head. I would break out all over my head with pimples which would form a watery matter, and I would have to scratch until I would bleed. After doctoring with two doctors for three years, none of them, I finally made up my mind to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, with result entirely satisfactory to me. After using two sets I am entirely cured. I have recommended your remedies to several persons, and they all tell me they are No. 1. The druggist is doing a nice business in CUTICURA REMEDIES, since my cure. I have given him the privilege of using my name as proof of their efficiency. I enclose my portrait.

SALT RHEUM CURED

My wife has been troubled with the salt rheum for four years. During this time doctors of Wisconsin, Illinois, and the most eminent of Chicago, failed to give relief. I bought the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and she used only one box of CUTICURA, one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and half a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and these have cured her completely.
C. M. STONE, 141 State St., Chicago, Ill.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

There is no doubt that the CUTICURA REMEDIES daily perform more wonderful cures than all other skin and blood remedies combined. They instantly relieve and speedily cure every humor of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, from pimples to scrofula, when the best physicians fail.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

How to Tie Shoestrings.

Though a shoestring is a very easy thing to tie, not one person in a hundred knows how to do it. We all know how to tie a bow and of what a bow consists—two loops and a knot in the middle. Now, suppose before you tighten your bow, and while you still have a loop in each hand, you take the loop in your right hand and pass it through the knot in the middle. Now go your usual way and give both loops a good hard tug to tighten them, and there you are! No more untied shoestrings. No more lost ears. When you want to unfasten it, take one of the tag ends in your hand, give a good pull, and the thing is done, or rather undone.

The Moral Tone.

One lady had just told the other that her husband played poker nearly every night.

"Well," was the exclamation, "I wouldn't let my husband do that."

"Neither would I," was the quiet response, "if he couldn't play any better than yours can."—Detroit Free Press

NIAGARA FALLS EXCURSION!

Thursday, August 2, 1894, via the Lake Erie and Western R. R. "Natural Gas Route."

On Thursday, August 2, 1894, the Lake Erie and Western R. R. will run their popular annual excursion to Cleveland, Chautauqua Lake, Buffalo and Niagara Falls at following very low rates, viz:

Peoria, $7.50; Bloomington, $7.00; Lafayette, $6.00; Michigan City, $6.00; Indianapolis, $5.00; Tipton, $5.00; Lima, $4.00; Fort Wayne, $5.00; Muncie, $5.00; Connersville, $5.00; Rushville, $5.00; New Castle, $5.00; Cambridge City, $5.00; Fremont, $4.00; Sandusky, $4.00.

With corresponding reductions from intermediate points.

In addition to the above, the purchasers of these tickets will be given privilege of special excursion side trips to Lewiston-on-the-Lake, including a steamboat ride on Lake Ontario, for 25 cents. To Toronto and return by Lake from Lewiston $1.00, to Thousand Islands, $5.00. Tickets for the above side trips can be had when purchasing Niagara Falls ticket, or at any time on train.

Besides the above privileges, with that of spending Sunday at the Falls, we will furnish all those who desire a side trip from Brocton Junction to Chautauqua Lake and return FREE OF CHARGE.

Tickets of admission to places of special interest at or near Niagra Falls, but outside the reservation, including toll over the International Bridge to the Canadian side, elevators to the water's edge at Whirlpool Rapids on the Canadian side, will be offered on train at a reduction from prices charged after reaching the Falls.

Do not miss this opportunity to spend Sunday at Niagara Falls. The excursion train will arrive at Niagara Falls 7.00 a. m., Friday, August 3, 1894, and will leave the Falls returning Sunday morning, August 5, at 6 o'clock, stopping at Cleveland Sunday afternoon, giving an opportunity to visit the magnificent monument of the late President Garfield, and many other interesting points.

Tickets will be good, however, to return on regular trains leaving the Falls Saturday, August 4, for those not desiring to remain over. Tickets will also be good returning on all regular trains up to and including Tuesday, August 7, 1894. Secure your tickets, also chair and sleeping car accommodations, early. Those desiring can secure accommodations in these cars while at the Falls. For further information call on any agent Lake Erie and Western R. R., or address

HARPER'S WAR VOLUMES

May 18, 1849.

To The Editor:

Volume No. 5 of Harper War Book just came, and it surprised me greatly to find the large colored map. Accept thanks for your promptness. I thought the other parts couldn't be beat, but they seem to grow better. If others appreciate the value of what you are giving for only 10 cents, you must sell a host of them, for if anybody once sees these War Volumes they must be as much surprised as I have been at so much, and so good, for such a low price. You deserve d vote of thanks for what you are doing. The gooa done by placing this great Harper history of the civil war in reach of every man, woman and child cannot be calculated.

At Pompeii tomorrow evening the pyrotechnists promise a fire portrait of the city's handsomest lady. Grey haired connoisseurs of female beauty have decided the momentous question, and the design is nearly completed, but the name of the well known personage is not announced, and until the electric spark ignites the gigantic portrait tomorrow night her identity must remain unknown. Among the other novelties promised are dozens of the laughable fire fish, magical fountains, the flying pigeons and a fireworks monkey, laughably performing on the turning bar. Children from the orphan asylums and feeble minded institute are to attend Pompeii tomorrow night, and little folks under fourteen years of age will be admitted for half price, 25c.

BUSY BURGLARS.

The Home of Philip Lordier Entered Last Night.

A Valuable Watch and $6 in Cash Stolen—Thieves Also Enter the Freeman Homestead.

The festive burglar has again become industrious in Fort Wayne and is busily engaged in fortifying himself against hard times.

He has entered a number of houses in this city within the past few days, but has as yet made no rich hauls. Last night the home of Philip Lordier, No. 37 Baker street, was entered and things turned topsy turvy. Six dollars in cash was stolen and a fine gold watch belonging to Mr. Lordier's daughter was also taken. The latter article was quite valuable and had been given Miss Lordier as a present. The burglars also took a fine pair of shoes belonging to Mr. Lordier's son. The housebreaker evidently tried on the shoes and found they would not fit, for they were found in the woodshed this morning.

The thieves entered the house by prying up the window with an axe. They had a large bundle of wearing apparel and jewelry ready to carry away when they were frightened off. The police are working on the case.

TOOK THE CAKE.

Night before last burglars entered the home of Mrs. Freeman, corner of Spy Run avenue and Elizabeth street. They ransacked the downstairs rooms, but carried off nothing valuable. Going to the cupboard they took a fine cake. The thieves entered by a window. The family knew nothing of the robbery until morning, when they found all the doors in the house open.

WHO CAN IT BE?

Fact or Fiction About World's Fair Awards.

A newspaper paragraph denounces as "false" the claim of a baking powder company to an award at the World's Fair. Whom can it mean?

Certainly not Dr. Price's. Why? Because, as the records show, Dr. Price's exhibited, competed and received the highest award. The official examiners pronounced it the strongest, the purest, the most wholesome and efficient of all the baking powders. Its title to confidence is unquestioned.

Can it be the manufacturers of a New York powder, fictitiously labelled "absolutely pure" who are making "false" claims? That would be strange indeed, inasmuch as they were not even considered in the awards.

Was it Ammonia in the New York powder that prevented its makers from competing?

A smooth sneak made a vigorous effort to get away with a bicycle from A. C. Katt the other day. The fellow made a small payment and then took the wheel. Later Mr. Katt thought the fellow was not quite straight and followed him to the South depot where the wheel was recovered.

LADIES' NIGHT.

The Great Pompeii at Lakeside Tomorrow Night.

Tomorrow evening will be "Ladies' Night" at Lakeside when the great exhibition of Pompeii will again be given and the management has announced as the principal fireworks feature of the evening a large fire portrait of Fort Wayne's handsomest lady, reproduced direct from a photograph.

Besides this beautiful design there will be dozens of the wonderful fiery fish and magical fountains spurting from the lake, numerous shells, a gigantic wheel and comicalities. One of the new fireworks features is a monkey in a laughable performance on the turning bar. The device is one of the funniest known to the pyrotechnic art, and is quite different in principle from any comicalities yet given. Children under fourteen years will secure admission tomorrow night for 25c.
